ABOUT ADVENTURES IN GOOD COMPANY

AGC offers small group adventures that encourage women of all ages to (re)connect with their adventurous selves, physical abilities, other women, different cultures, and the natural world.

From hiking to sea kayaking and backpacking to multi-sport adventures, their vacations are for women who love being active - whether they're first-time travelers or lifelong outdoorswomen.

Together, they share new experiences. They build community. They eat delicious food. They soak up new cultures.

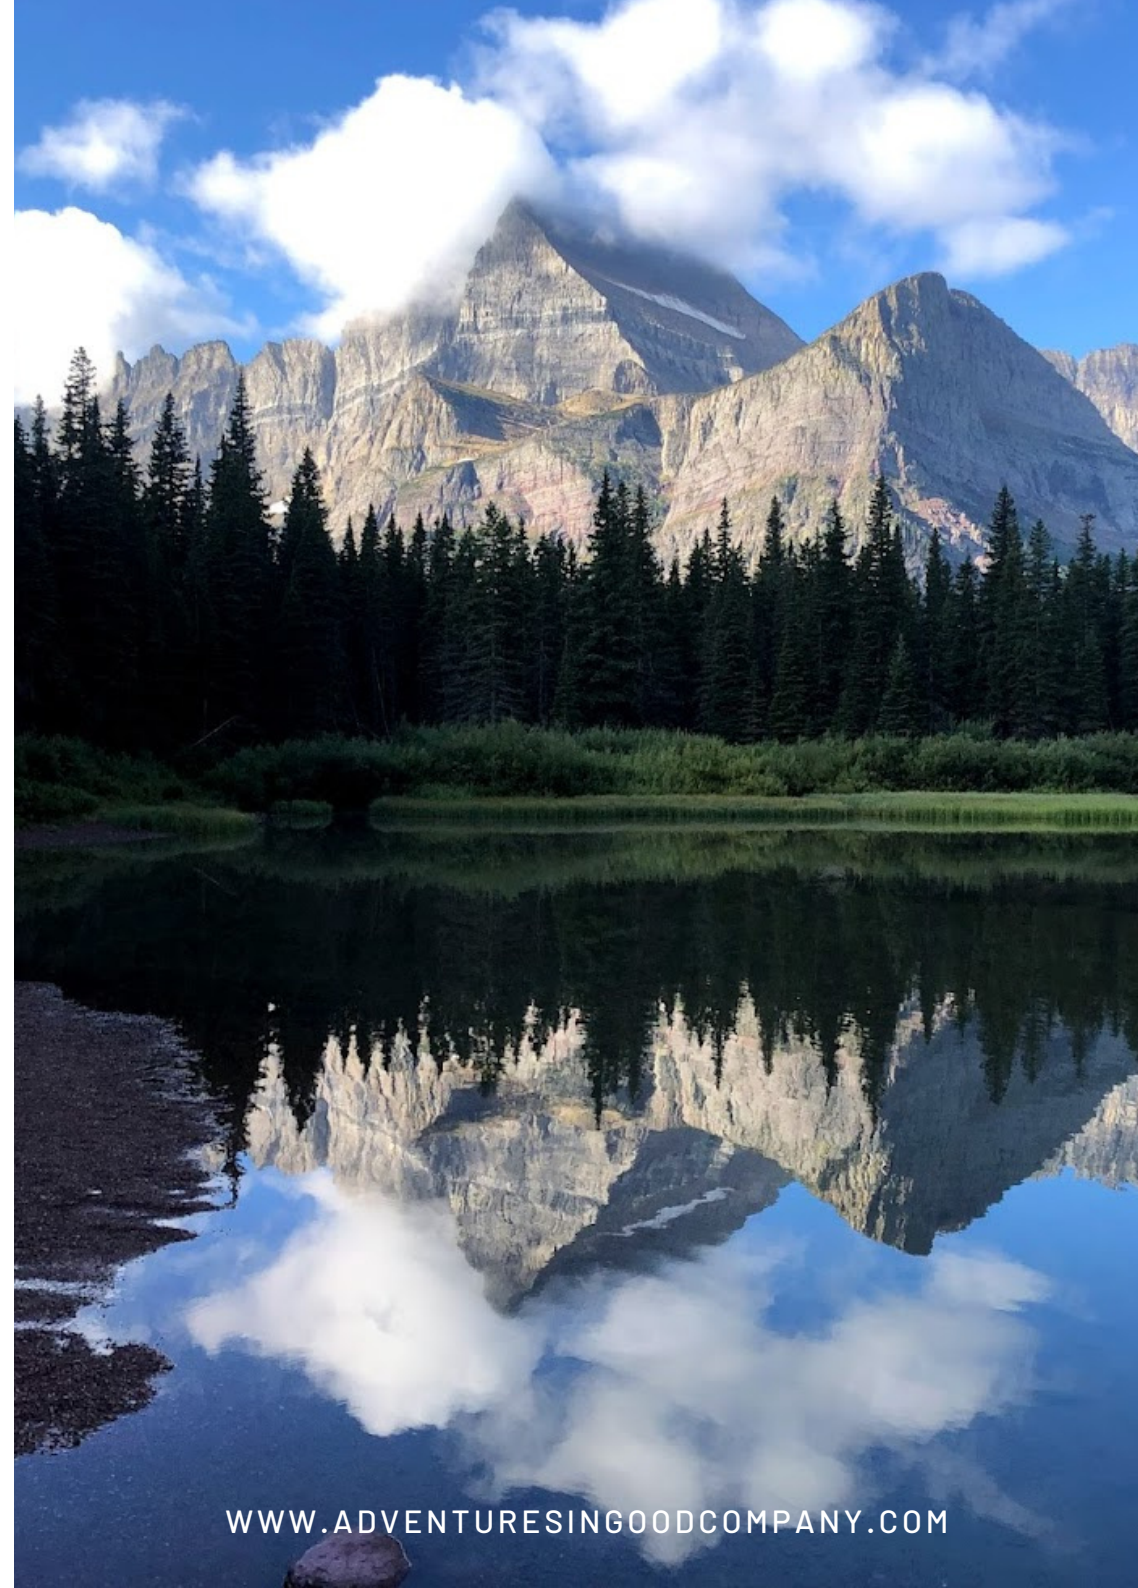

They laugh a lot. And they walk (or paddle, snowshoe, or ski) away with new friendships and a mixture of deep satisfaction and a hunger for their next adventure.

When you choose to explore with Adventures in Good Company, it is not just an opportunity to travel, it is an invitation to join their community; a community of spirited women who understand the importance of, and joy in, women adventuring with other women.

THE DESTINATIONS

Whether you are seeking to work your way along the Appalachian Trail via their Signature Slackpacking trips, enjoy the fascinating history, culture, and diverse landscapes of Europe, hike the boundless opportunities afforded by the U.S. National Parks, seek out the exotic wildlife in Latin America, or find the solitude of the Canadian Rockies, you are sure to find an incredible array of adventures for active women of all ages.

You can search their current trips by location, date, season, desired activity level, or primary activity level to ensure you are finding a suitable trip for your needs.

THEIR PHILOSOPHY

They are more than a tour company! They are a community of women with adventurous spirits who support each other and relish time together in the outdoors.

THE EXPERIENCE

Find one-of-a-kind, uplifting experiences you can't find anywhere else. Join one of the many carefully curated adventures - an AGC trip offers a way for you to travel comfortably within a community of like-minded women and leave the organizational details up to them so you can relax and enjoy your adventure!

THE ACTIVITY LEVEL

All trips are active and require basic good health, balance, and mobility. Each trip has a rating that is based on the level of conditioning necessary to enjoy the trip and hours of activity. This is easily searchable so that you can find a trip relevant to your preferred activity level.

SUPPORTING COMMUNITIES

Adventures in Good Company partners with high-quality local tourism groups. Not only does this ensure that the local community is benefiting financially from our presence, but it also gives an authentic and honest view of the region from people who have lived there all their lives. We stay in locally-owned hotels and eat at locally-owned restaurants, so the profits stay in the community.
